ONE CRUISE 5 COUNTRIES

Passau(Germany)

A delightful city of elegant baroque architecture and beautiful arcades overlooked by the Veste Oberhaus, a 13th-century hilltop fortress. In Old Town, the magnificent St. Stephen's Cathedral houses the largest cathedral organ in the world. Its distinctive onion-domed towers are visible from all over the city.

Linz (Austria)

The provincial capital of Upper Austria, Linz is famed as a vibrant and leading cultural centre. Spend a full day in Linz, and there is much to be enjoyed in Austria's third-largest city.

Cesky Krumlov (Czech Republic)

The word "Fairytale" gets bandied around a lot, especially in this part of Europe. However, Cesky Krumlov, described as a "Medieval Treasure on a Meandering River" is well deserved of the title.

Bratislava (Slovakia)

The old town of Bratislava is intimate, vibrant and very laid back. Despite, the little city being a hotspot for British Stag parties, much like Riga, Estonia or Ljubljana, Bratislava is a charming city to spend a day.

Budapest (Hungary)

"The Pearl of the Danube", Budapest boasts a mix of sophisticated elegance to rival Paris or Vienna with a cool counter-culture attracting people from all over Europe. Budapest has a unique atmosphere that has made the city one of Europe's top weekend getaway destinations.

Passau

Originally the Celtic settlement of Bojodurum, it was later the site of a Roman camp, Castra Batava, and was made an episcopal see in 739. The bishops became princes of the Holy Roman Empire in 1217 and ruled Passau until 1803, despite revolts by citizens for municipal freedom. Passau was an important medieval trade and shipping centre. The Inn River salt trade and the making of knife and sword blades were traditional occupations. Fires in 1662 and 1680 caused great damage, and subsequent rebuilding gave Passau a Baroque character.

The cityscape is dominated by the Oberhaus Fortress (1219) and the cathedral of St. Stephen (1668), which incorporates the remains of an earlier Gothic structure. The cathedral contains one of the largest church organs in the world; this organ, built in 1928, has more than 17,000 pipes. The bishops' palace (1712–30) and numerous fine churches in varied styles recall the era of the prince-bishops. The Gothic town hall (1298–1389) has paintings depicting episodes in Passau's past, including its association with the Nibelungen legends.
