An Introduction To Your Ship

Crystal Symphony is a wonderful choice for cruise travelers who are looking for a luxurious cruise vacation on a larger ship with plenty of options for dining and entertainment. The ship (and its sister, Crystal Serenity) has a following of passionate and loyal fans, who consider longtime staff to be family and love to come onboard to be pampered.

Yet the line does not ignore newer and younger cruisers. An award-winning refurbishment in 2017 - the largest in the vessel's history - added modern touches to the ship - open-seating dining in the main restaurant, new casual eateries, enhanced Wi-Fi, more up-to-date suites, and a commitment to sprinkling shorter itineraries among the world cruises and longer voyages. Staffing kids' clubs in the summer months makes sure working professionals and families are accommodated.

Crystal Symphony is an older ship, but it rivals the newer ships of competing lines for dining choice. There are five main venues for dinner, plus room service. Three have more of the formal restaurant vibe: the main dining room Waterside, Italian Prego and Asian Umi Uma, created by celebrity chef Nobu Matsuhisa. Two new casual venues were added in the 2017 refurbishment - Brazilian steakhouse Churrascaria and family-style Chinese restaurant Silk.

On board Dining Options

Waterside (Deck 5): The ship's main restaurant serves breakfast, lunch and dinner daily and is open seating for all meals. To accommodate this change in policy (the restaurant formerly offered two sittings for dinner), more tables for two and four have been added.

Umi Uma & Sushi Bar (Deck 6): Umi Uma, formerly called Silk Road (Umi Uma means "sea horse," as featured in Crystal's corporate logo) is supervised by Nobu Matsuhisa, one of the world's most highly regarded celebrity chefs. The venue is open for dinner only.

Prego (Deck 6): Prego, the ship's Italian restaurant, has been a Crystal stalwart since Symphony's launch; Piero Selvaggio, proprietor of Valentino's in Santa Monica, created it.

The Vintage Room (Deck 6): An elegant private dining room with rare wines displayed in glass cabinets, The Vintage Room can be booked for private parties or by individuals, provided a minimum of eight diners is reached (the maximum is 12).

The Bistro (Deck 6): In the morning, The Bistro is a great coffee bar for low-key breakfasts of fruit, yogurt, pastries and bagels, open as early as 6:30 a.m. At lunchtime, it transitions to cold cuts and cheeses and desserts, and is a popular spot for a glass of wine.

Marketplace (Deck 11): For casual dining, Crystal Symphony's Marketplace is the vessel's buffet venue for breakfast and lunch. Its design makes it feel both summery and elegant, with individual travertine islands that allow the food to be displayed elegantly and reduce queuing.

Churrascaria (Deck 11): A new addition in the 2017 refit, it's the ship's nod to South American cuisine, located in a section of the Marketplace. It's open daily for dinner only and is open seating, with no cover charge.

Silk Kitchen & Bar (Deck 11): Silk is a lunch and dinner venue for Chinese comfort food -- it is not a Nobu restaurant. (It's easy to confuse Silk Kitchen with Silk Road, the venue that has since become Umi Uma.)

Trident Grill (Deck 11): A huge hit, the Trident Bar and Grill, located midship, serves up made-to-order fast food like Reubens, burgers (chicken, beef, salmon and veg), tuna melt, hot dog, chili con carne, soup and pizza.

Scoops Ice Cream Bar (Deck 11): A favorite of both kids and adults, Crystal Symphony's ice cream bar serves up varying flavors of Ben and Jerry's ice cream in cups or cones.

Palm Court Tea (Deck 11): Afternoon tea is a pleasant ritual on Crystal, and a formal interpretation takes place in the ship's Palm Court, with waiters dressed in tuxedos with tails.

Room Service: Room service is available around the clock and includes a variety of soups, salads, sandwiches and desserts, along with hot items that range from pizza and spaghetti to beef tournedos and burgers.

Activities & Amenities Include

The Resorts World At Sea casino, also on Deck 6, has blackjack, roulette, three card poker, Ultimate Texas Hold'em, and slot and video poker games.

The Bridge Lounge, a space that also doubles as a presentation locale with a new podium and AV system, has convertible game tables.

Magicians affiliated with Magic Castle offer intimate magic shows to a mere 20 passengers per performance on select days, usually when the ship is sailing.

Many evenings feature two shows, with two showings each; one show is held in the Galaxy Lounge, the main theater, with the other in the Starlite Club, a more versatile lounge for performances, dancing and gathering at the bar.

A DJ entertains the late-night crowd in the Starlite Club until late.

Crystal's reputation for outstanding enrichment is well deserved, and itineraries almost always involve multiple days at sea that are jam-packed with myriad educational activities.

For those interested in painting, sculpture or crafts, art specialists come aboard most sailings as part of the Odyssey Art at Sea program.

Bridge instructors give lessons and host games in the Bridge Lounge. PGA-certified golf pros are onboard to lead workshops and offer one-on-one instruction.

The pool deck is stunning, with the feel of an upscale resort. Gorgeous deck furniture creates a plush, contemporary look. There's a giant Jacuzzi, seating up to 20, by the main Seahorse pool, great for socializing on cool-weather cruises.

Spa & Fitness Asian themed in decor, the Crystal Spa and Salon has got everything you need for a choice of relaxing and rejuvenating treatments.

The ship's salon, adjacent to the spa, offers haircuts and blow-outs, color and dyeing, pedicures and manicures.

One of the few luxury lines to incorporate kids' facilities onboard its ships, Crystal does court the family market, particularly during summer and school holiday seasons.

The steam room and sauna in the men's and women's locker rooms are available to use at no charge.

UPON ARRIVING ON BOARD YOU WILL DISCOVER THE ABOVE IS ONLY A SAMPLE OF THE INCREDIBLE AMENITIES AT YOUR DISPOSAL.
