USA

The major characteristic of the United States is probably its great variety. Its physical environment ranges from the Arctic to the subtropical, from the moist rain forest to the arid desert, from the rugged mountain peak to the flat prairie. Although the total population of the United States is large by world standards, its overall population density is relatively low. The country embraces some of the world's largest urban concentrations as well as some of the most extensive areas that are almost devoid of habitation. The United States is the world's greatest economic power. The nation's wealth is partly a reflection of its rich natural resources and its enormous agricultural output, but it owes more to the country's highly developed industry.

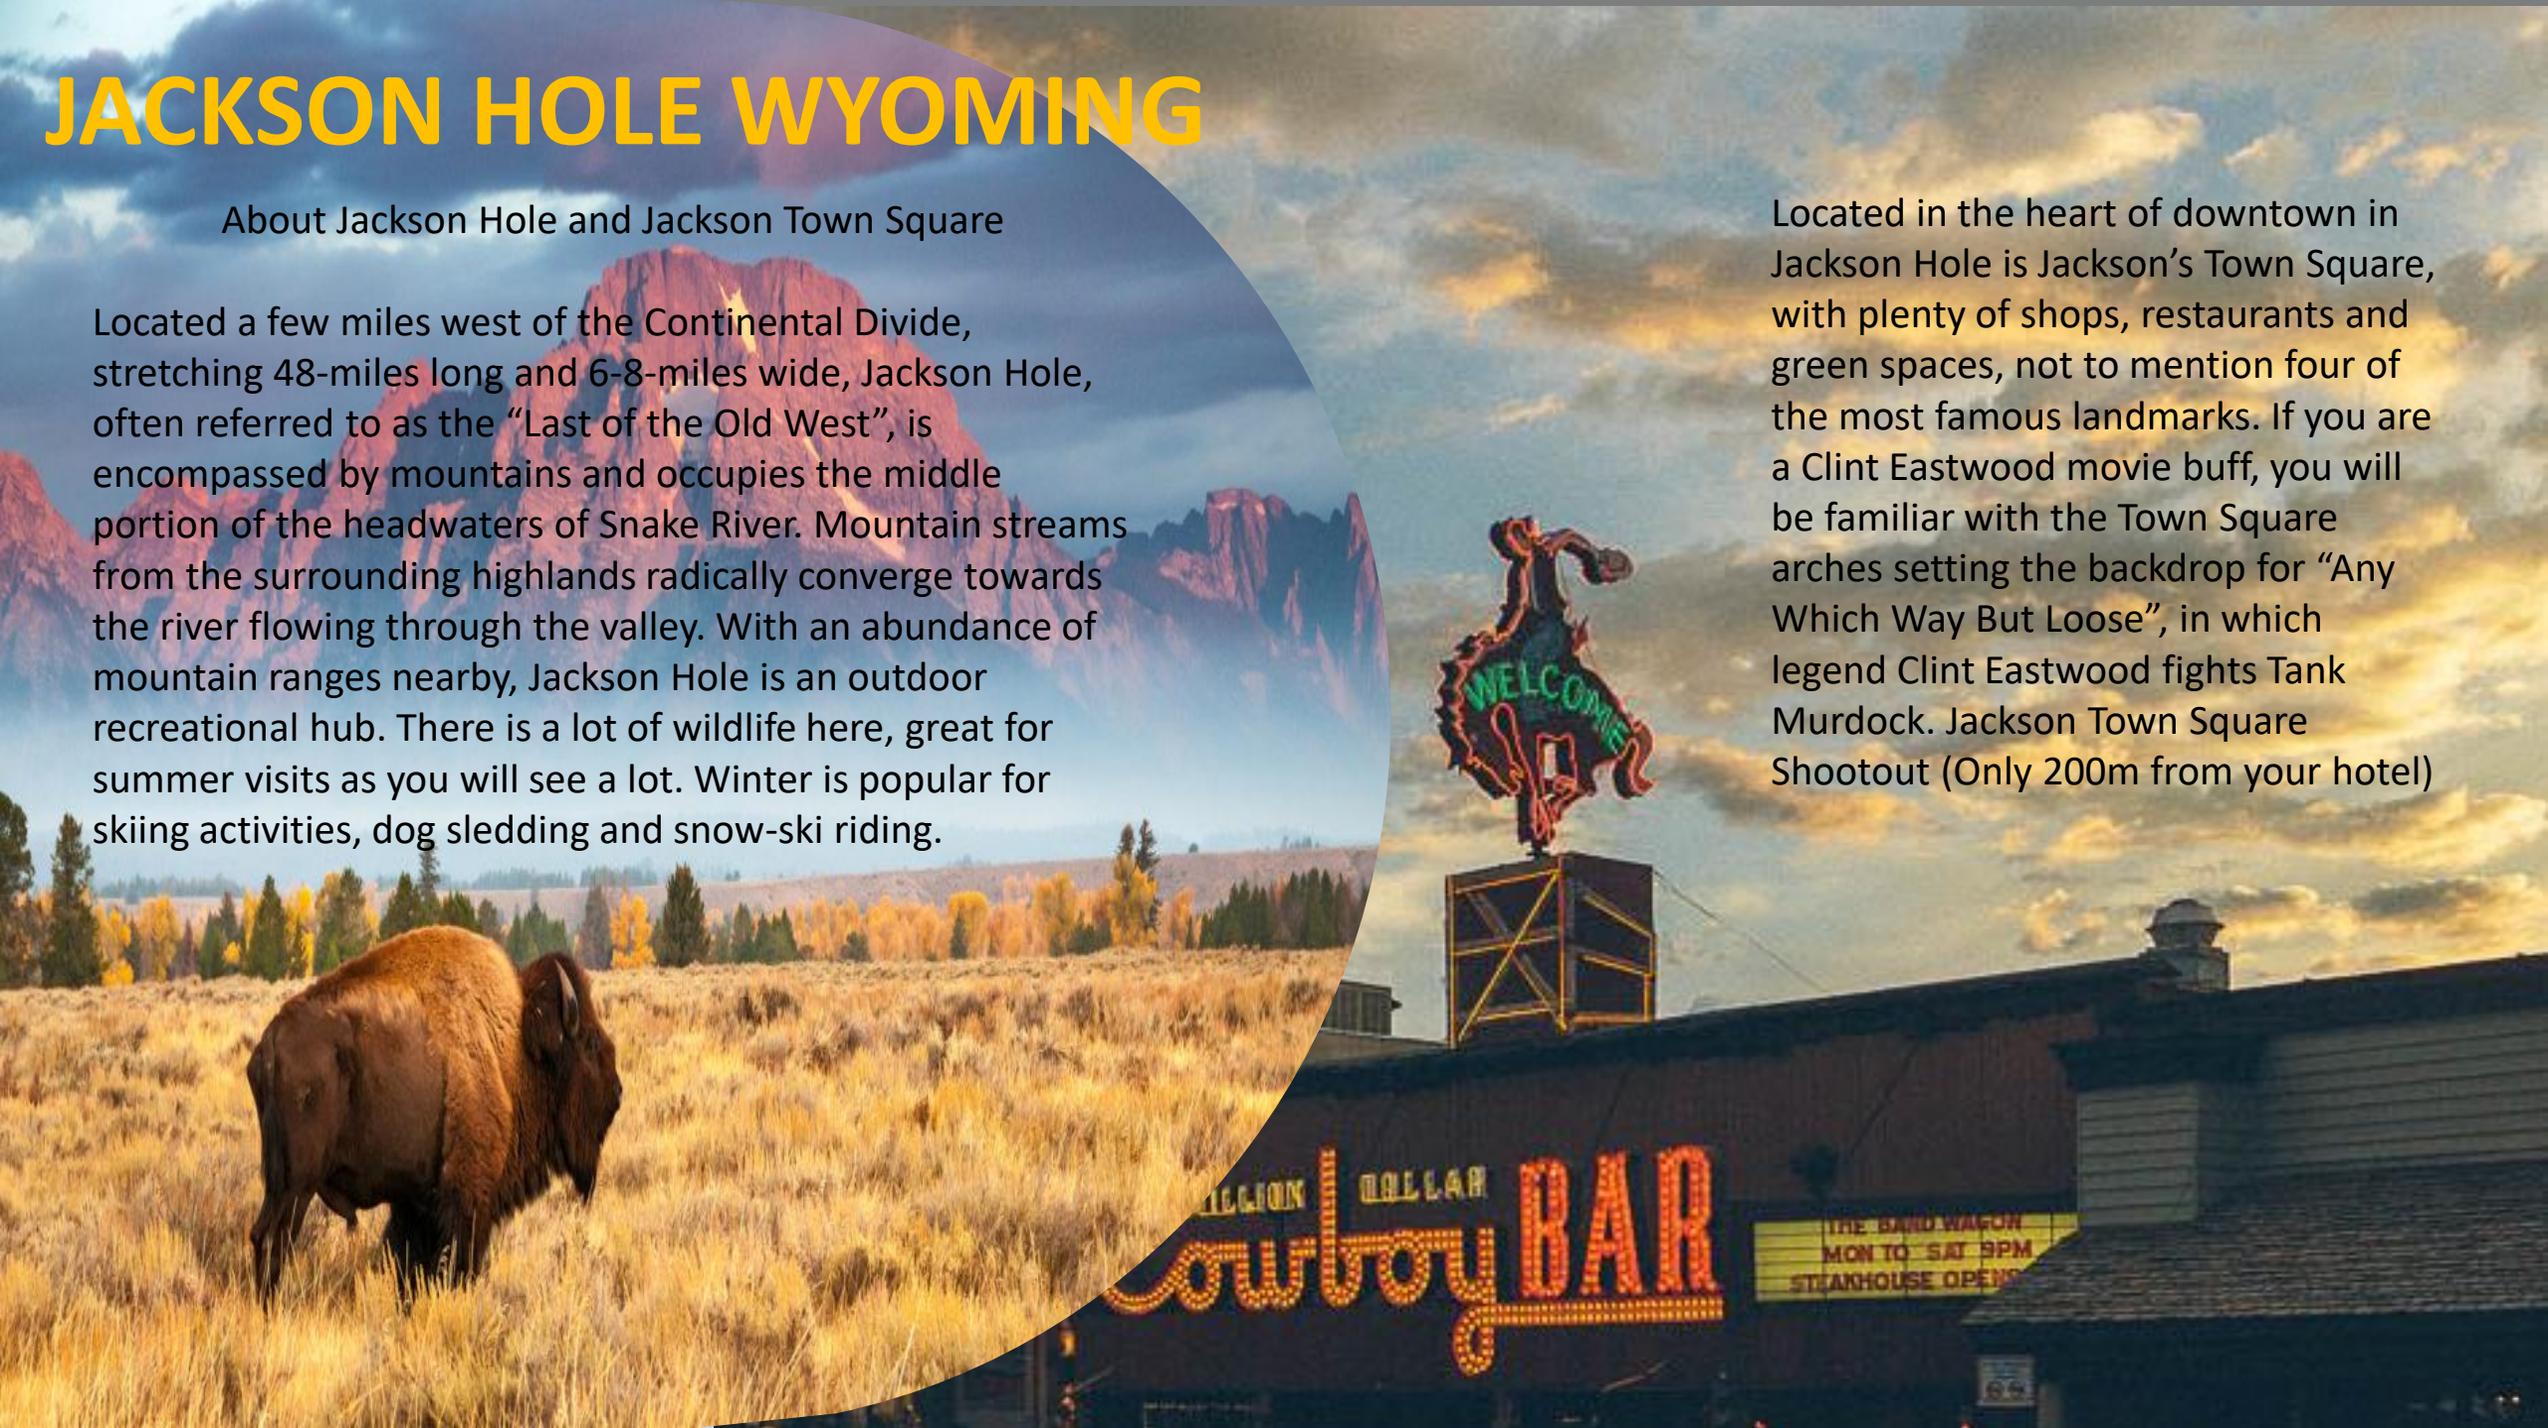

JACKSON HOLE WYOMING

About Jackson Hole and Jackson Town Square

Located a few miles west of the Continental Divide, stretching 48-miles long and 6-8-miles wide, Jackson Hole, often referred to as the “Last of the Old West”, is encompassed by mountains and occupies the middle portion of the headwaters of Snake River. Mountain streams from the surrounding highlands radically converge towards the river flowing through the valley. With an abundance of mountain ranges nearby, Jackson Hole is an outdoor recreational hub. There is a lot of wildlife here, great for summer visits as you will see a lot. Winter is popular for skiing activities, dog sledding and snow-ski riding.

Located in the heart of downtown in Jackson Hole is Jackson’s Town Square, with plenty of shops, restaurants and green spaces, not to mention four of the most famous landmarks. If you are a Clint Eastwood movie buff, you will be familiar with the Town Square arches setting the backdrop for “Any Which Way But Loose”, in which legend Clint Eastwood fights Tank Murdock. Jackson Town Square Shootout (Only 200m from your hotel)

The Town of Jackson Hole

The Town, framed by four elk antler arches is the picturesque centrepiece of Jackson and it has an occasion not to be missed. Gun slinging action at its best in the Town Square Shootout, a tradition in Jackson since 1957. Every Monday through to Saturdays at 6pm (Mountain Standard Time), from Memorial (May 27th) Day through to Labor Day (September 2nd).

The shootout gang performs the exhilarating longest continual shootout in the West. It's an absolute Hellraiser of an evening full of excitement and fun for all the family. You feel like you are living in a western, the authentic characters and costumes bring back to life the Old Wild West and are so believable with elaborate scripts and intriguing gunfight action. The Town Square is located directly across from the famous Million Dollar Cowboy Bar, world renowned for its gallery-like atmosphere, live entertainment, and western dancing. The saddle barstools, animal mounts, and western memorabilia will have you feeling like you are in the Wild West. The Town Square serves as a hub for stagecoach rides, public transportation, people watching and an incredible festive atmosphere.

The Million Dollar Cowboy Bar (Only 200m from your hotel)

Established since 1937, this landmark in Jackson Town is considered Wyoming's watering hole. It is a unique Western drinking and entertainment venue, carved into Wyoming's history in which Presidents, Royalty, celebrities as well as people from all walks of life come to enjoy great western fun within the walls of this icon bar. Its nobbled pine architecture, cowboy murals, animal mounts and genuine saddles for bar stools is one of the most captivating décor's you will ever see. The bar is internationally renowned for western dancing and boasts to often invite onto its stage some of the finest entertainers in the country's western scene including Waylon Jennings, Hank Williams Jr., Asleep at the Wheel, Hoyt Axton, Glen Campbell, Tanya Tucker, Willie Nelson, Commander Cody, and the James Cotton Blues Band. The Cowboy bar provides six days a week, from a 11am to 2am of live music and continues to feature local and nationally recognized bands.

Jackson Hole Rodeo

Rodeo cowboy culture has been part of Jackson Hole since the first settlers arrives over 100-years ago. In 1890 Sylvester Wilson and his family lead the first settlers to the abundantly fertile green growing valley and over 130-years on, his descendants continue the western heritage. Rodeo runs three generations deep in the family and was moved to the area called Wilson (named in honour of Sylvester). The Wilson's have competed in the Superbowl of rodeo, the NFR, as well as riding broncs and dangerous route bull riding. The family still competes in the team roping events at Jackson Hole Rodeo. The legendary rodeo starts at 8pm on Wednesdays and Saturdays from Memorial Day (May 27th) weekend through Labor Day (September 2nd) excluding June 29th, with additional rodeos July 4th and every Friday in July and August excluding fair week (July 21-27). Admission is around US$30 per adult and US$28 for the kids.

Wagon Train Adventure

Your 4 Day Wagon Adventure

There is no need to worry about packing your cases as your stay at the hotel is booked for a continuous 14-nights and this adventure requires nothing more than a rucksack with enough clothes for the day trip.

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to be a member of an Old West Wagon Train travelling through trails in the very footsteps of the founding settlers did over 130-years ago, accompanied and escorted by real cowboys and cowgirls? This morning, you will be picked up from Jackson Town to begin your epic Old West adventure on a 4-day journey through the majestic valleys, meadows and mountains of Grand Teton and Yellowstone National Parks. As you await your coach in Jackson Town sipping your morning americano, you are overwhelmed with anticipation of what awaits in the mountains yonder. Prepare to leave the 21st century as you know it, this adventure is almost like a time travel back to the days of the settlers in search of greener pastures. The coach arrives, ready to transport you and your loved ones as well as your other Wagon Train companions that no doubt will become your good friends high up into the mountains of Caribou-Targhee National Forest. The Wagon Train comprises of modern-day replicas of the 18th century Conestoga Wagons used by the settlers, retrofitted with rubber tires and padded seats to ensure your journey is comfortable. Not an experienced horse rider? Don't worry, this adventure does not require you to have any former riding encounters with horses as the highly-skilled cowboys and cowgirls are on-hand to teach you how to ride in no time at all, that is if you choose to ride. If you prefer not to saddle up, you can enjoy the journey from the comfort of a seat on one of the wagons.

Your coach arrives at the forest clearing and immediately your ears pick up the distinct sounds of squeaking wagon brakes, horses neighing, harnesses jingling and cowboy whistles, set in the backdrop of a beautiful coloured meadow. The smell of fresh pines, horses sweating, leather and the fantastic landscape creates the perfect natural aphrodisiac for your mind as it begins to slowly wander, leaving your everyday thoughts far behind. The horses are unhitched and led to water, after which a sumptuous western buffet lunch is served is served from the chuck (food) wagon. The food served throughout this momentous Wagon Trail journey comprises of an excellent selection of cowboy outdoor food that includes roast beef, ham, cowboy potatoes, barbequed chicken vegetables, salads and fruits prepared in Dutch ovens (cast iron pots with lids) over an open fire, and there's plenty of it. As the Cowboys say, "the best food in the world". This type of cooking dates back hundreds of years. In 1704, an Englishman, Andrew Darby after observing the Dutch making these cooking pots, patented a process and produced cast-metal cooking vessels for Britain and the new American colonies, hence the name, Dutch Oven.

Your place of rest for the next 4-days will be in the comfort of your own tent or you can choose to sleep under the stars next to the campfire. After horse-riding lessons are completed, its time to mount up or jump aboard your wagon, as the train sets off into the Targhee Forest, captivated by the crystal-clear streams, mountains and wildlife on your adventure into the west country, it's an incredibly relaxing environment.

Whilst at Camp

Whilst in camp, there are plenty of fun-filled activities, including how to handle a rope, horseback trail rides, tomahawk and knife throwing, swimming or you can choose to sit soaking in the natural beauty of your surroundings. While you and your loved ones are enjoying the lake or other activities, the horses pull dead trees into the wagon circle in preparation for the night's campfire.

As the sun sets and the sky begins to darken, the aromatic smells of wood smoke and food cooking infusing the pristine mountain air, draws everyone to the campfire. Superb quality steaks cooked over an open fire, corn, beans and bread baked in the Dutch ovens on the fire's coals set the tone for a fantastic meal and a wonderful evening.

As you eat a hearty meal, the snap and crackle of the campfire is almost mesmerizing as the sky transforms to darkness. However, you look up and see an unbelievable sight, billions of stars illuminate the cloudless sky, and if you are lucky, you may even catch the astounding beauty of the Northern Lights. Stomachs full, the cowboys begin their yarns of the Old West stories, captivating everyone attention circling the campfire.

Stories of the Indians and Wild West gunslingers with only the sound of the fire and nature in the background is one of the most thrilling experiences you will have. When the yarns are over, everyone joins in singing songs and becoming great friends with everyone on the trek. The cowboys and cowgirls have been planning something, enough to get your blood pumping into the evening, let's not speak of what happens, it's for you to discover when you go and see for yourself.

Your 4 Day Wagon Adventure

Over the forthcoming days, the Wagon Train moves from camp to camp, completely encircling the majestic Teton Mountain Range with incomparable views. You will even get to camp one night on the top of the Teton Mountain Range and trek within the "Yellowstone Grizzly Bear Recovery Zone". You will see huge moose, elk, deer and maybe some grizzly bears. Without going into too much details so as to not spoil the many surprises in store, this adventure promises to be the thrill of a lifetime, an adventure that brings your family bonding to its pinnacle.

Below is a little information about a few encounters you will come across

Grand Teton National Park

Located in the Northwest corner of Wyoming and a few miles south of Yellowstone National Park, Teton encompasses 310,000 acres of wilderness with 100 miles of paved road, 200 miles of trails and is home to some of Western USA's most scenic mountain range.

Yellowstone National Park – Grizzly Recovery Zone The Grizzly Bear Recovery Zone (GBRZ) is the demographic and habitat area aimed at achieving the recovery of the Yellowstone grizzly bear population.

Granite Hot Springs

Located one hour drive south of Jackson, the developed mountain oasis springs are encircled by beautiful huge spruce pine and fir forest. This is a place of complete natural rejuvenation, soothing those aching muscles, improving blood circulation, healing skin problems and a complete mind food.

Snake River White Water rafting

The 8-mile stretch of Snake River has the highest concentration of laughter in the Wyoming state, brought about through the excitement and thrills of rafting you will absolutely love it. The river has class II and III rapids, such as the Lunch Counter and the Big Kahuna and even an underwater waterfall called Champagne. The scenery of the river is incredible, limestone cliffs, Lodge pole Pine hills, and the mountain peak horizon of Grey's National Forest.

Scenic Raft Trip

For those not seeking the adrenaline pumping white water rafting, the alternative is to join a floating scenic trip on Snake River. A certain section of the river is selected, coupled together with a quality guide, ensuring your scenic float trip most memorable. The section of the river is a thirteen mile stretch for you to experience the essence of the Tetons and all its wonders, this time from the water. The guides have extensive training in wildlife ecology, geology, river hydrology, as well as many other relevant facts about the Jackson Hole area.
